Øperat

Is an experimental industrial project born from an Italian duo in 2013. Always passionate about electronic music, they immediately approach the world of live and production.

Their sound is characterized by dark environments, aggressive and sharp sounds accompanied by dynamic rhythms distorted. In the production use entirely a modular system with which they sample and record voices, guitars and instruments of various kinds.

In these years, during the search for their own musical identity have been influenced by the hard techno and industrial scene and then push themselves towards more particular sounds, introducing in their performances and rhythmic productions more evocative and particular. Metallic and cinematic sounds generate environments of pure violence and moments of high tension.

This is a solid project in continuous evolution and growth, which aims to create and bring new and alternative situations moving completely from everything ordinary.
